“Students at the UCLA Anderson School of Management have access to many databases, journals, research monographs, and other data sources. BEP provides... short, applied books by academic thought leaders, aimed specifically at advanced business students, which support their coursework and professional exploration.”

Michael Oppenheim
University of California/Los Angeles

“The UNC library has purchased the Business Expert Press collection from the beginning because these focused, up-to-date and authoritative treatments fill important niches in the field. The titles also represent good value for a good price, while the lack of restrictive digital rights management features allow faculty and students to make maximal and easy use of these digital texts.”

Luke Swindler
University of North Carolina/Chapel Hill
